

TONIGHT'S THE NIGHT when all those zestful, zany rehearsals emerge into "the real thing" on the stage of Acalanes High School auditorium. "Absurdia in Suburbia III," that's what it is, of course, and the highly entertaining variety show put on by the Orinda Mothers Club will again be presented tomorrow night. Curtain time each evening is 8:15. These two scenes give you a glimpse of some of the antics. At left, some-sort-or-other of dance group goes through its paces; left to right are Charlie Gibbs, Helen Gibbs, Jeanne Barkley and Jack Barkley. At right, "The Pearly Gates" is the title, with (left to right), Sybil Sellers, Jack Moylan (as St. Peter), Edith Willes and Kay Brown.

Action on Commute Problems

Developments on the commute front gained momentum this week as "Operation Rail Service" besame a longed-for goal and as Contra Costans felt the pinch of the two-month-old Greyhound bus strike.

Despite reiteration by Western Pacific officials that the firm intends to tear up its Sacramento Northern tracks between West Lafayette station and Oakland, popular sentiment kept mounting for resumption of rail commute service via those tracks.

Bringing the entire picture into even sharper focus was the surprise application of the newly-formed Bay Area Transit System to take over Pacific Greyhound's Bay Area commute franchises in Contra Costa, Marin and San Mateo Counties.

THE APPLICATION was filed last weekend with the State Public Utilities Commission by the partners in the Bay Area Transit System — Arthur C. Jenkins of San Francisco, former P. U. C. engineer and a former official of the Key System Lines and the Gray Line Bus Company, and Fred P. Hamilton Jr., vice-president and general manager of the Omaha and Council Bluffs Street Railway Company.

Requesting an early hearing on their application, Jenkins and Hamilton said they planned to operate buses over substantially the same area served by Greyhound before the strike.

Jenkins, a consulting engineer, stated he believed 150 to 160 buses could handle the traffic, and that his firm wants to have the P. U. C. declare franchises, or to buy the franchises from Greyhound.

HOWEVER, Pacific Greyhound President F. W. Ackerman this week declined to comment until he has studied the application.

Meanwhile, another firm was reliably reported as having approached Greyhound in a move to obtain the Greyhound bus routes through this area, so that a bus system and a rail commute system could be operated jointly. But this effort was said to be stymied pending settlement of the long drawn-out Greyhound strike.

THIS REPORTED plan for joint rail and bus service was cited by some observers as proof that rail commute service alone would not "pay off." In addition, bus runs would serve the Orinda area, which would not be directly served by passenger trains along Sacramento Northern tracks.

Still a third company was reported to be contemplating purchase of Key System trains and reconditioning them for Concord-to-San Francisco passenger service.

ORINDA SUN

Vol. X, No. 7 — Lafayette — Orinda, California — Friday, May 2, 1952 — Ten Cents

Tonight, Tomorrow Night–'Absurdia' Is the Show, Theme Is Fun-Fun-Fun . . .

It will be "Fun, Fun, Fun" tonight and tomorrow night at the third annual "Absurdia in Suburbia" extravaganza which will be presented to the public by the Orinda Mothers Club at 8:15 at the Acalanes High School auditorium.

With "Fun" as the opening dance chorus and theme of the show, Orinda mothers and fathers are out to outdo themselves in the 20 lively skits and song-and-dance numbers that will make up the third production of "Absurdia in Suburbia," according to Jean Downs, general chairman.

The entire show has been written, costumed, acted and directed by Orindans and has a cast of approximately 150 mothers and fathers who will be on stage during the performance.

Behind the scenes are another 50 persons who have helped produce the revue.

PROCEEDS FROM this chief fund-raising activity of the Orinda Mothers Club will go to furnish needed equipment for the Orinda and Glorietta Schools. Mrs. Robert Bigler, president of the club, hopes to supply library books, new auditorium curtains for the Orinda School and possibly bleachers for outdoor use from the money raised.

A star-studded evening of entertainment and laughter is in store for the audience, with such mirth-provokers as Slipalong Hillside in the cast of the "Night with Sagmar" skit, Jean Henderson in her version of "Whistler's Mother" and Joseph Downs in his idea of "Golf Made Easy."

A MIXED CHORUS of 50 voices will sing the original songs written for the review, including "Orinda," "If It Weren't for My Father" and "Mail Man Blues." Solo numbers will be sung by Dorothy Byron, Ken Wohn, Wes Smith and Ethel Wasson.

Specialty dances will be performed by Maudie Hammond, Winnie Gilmore, Doris Clifford, Muffy Wallace, Helen and Charles Gibbs, Jean and Jack Barkley, Flo and Tom Pauli and George Clifford.

In addition, the women's and men's dance choruses will brighten several skits and the grand finale with their intricate steps and brilliant costumes.

THE CAST HAS been perfecting lines for the skits, which will provide entertainment with the "Cut-Ups," the "Sheaf of Troubles," "Pearly Gates," "If Gals Played Cards as Men Do" and "Election Confusion." Brief sketches will be done by Fred Udall, Joseph Downs and Ruth Gilwee.

Refreshments will be available in the girls' gymnasium of the high school during intermission, under the direction of Roy Pearson, with other fathers assisting him.

Winners of free tickets to "Absurdia in Suburbia" for their posters advertising the show are Kyla Houston from Mrs. Murphy's seventh grade, Barbara Gibbs from Miss Tighe's seventh grade, Mary Ann Drysdale from Mr. Comer's eighth grade; Lynn Hunsicker and Lynn Pollock from Mr. Lambert's eighth grade and Peter Brooks and Kathie Chavelle from Mr. Henderson's seventh and sixth grade class.

TICKETS ARE available in Orinda from Ruth Henry on the Glorietta side, Muffy Wallace on the Orinda side of the Crossroads or their ticket captains.

There will be a few tickets available at the door tonight and tomorrow night.

Tickets are $1.20 for adults and 60 cents for children.

Fawn Found Here Now at Fairyland

Two young fawns wandered down from the nearby hillside to the middle of Mt. Diablo Boulevard just east of the Crossroads. The traffic frightened one and he bounded away to safety, but the younger one seemed too weak to follow him.

A car stopped, and the woman driver picked up the little one and after phoning the William Penn Mott Jr. residence took it there.

Nancy and Billy Mott bottlefed the fawn and in a few days it was strong enough to be taken by the Oakland Park naturalist to Children's Fairyland, where it will be one of the animals to delight the young visitors.

The Weather's Mild – But Wait For Summer! . . .

Orinda weather during the week of April 24 through Wednesday was blase with just a smidgen of rain—.30 of an inch, bringing the weather years' total (since July 1) to 45.37 inches.

Warmest day of the week was on Monday, registering 67 degrees. Low temperature was on Wednesday, dropping to 40 degrees.

Believe it or not, those hot, sweltering days are just around the corner!

Sleepy Hollowans To Hear Cummings

Sleepy Hollow Improvement Association will hold a general membership meeting next Wednesday night at 8 o'clock at Orinda School auditorium.

Supervisor Jack Cummings has promised to be present and discuss problems of the area, according to President William Witter.

Witter stressed the importance of a good turnout at the gathering, so that views, opinions and suggestions can be fully aired.

Meet-Candidates Meeting Here Set for May 20

An opportunity for Orinda voters to see and hear aspirants to county, state and national political offices will be offered at a "Meet Your Candidates" meeting. his event is scheduled for May 20, 8 p. m., at Orinda Grammar School.

Duane Nuenschwander, president of the Orinda Chapter of Young Republicans, sponsors of this event, announced that among those scheduled to appear are:

Daryl Hutchens for State Senate; John . Baldwin Jr., Carl W. Ferrell and Leo Armstrong for Congress, 6th District; Donald D. Doyle, Othmer J. Wohlgemuth, John A. Nejedly, King E. Parker Jr., and Joseph Meyer for Assembly, 10th District.

Sherrill Fitch, 'Miss Roundup'

Sherrill Fitch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Fitch of 219 La Espiral, has been selected as "Miss Orinda Roundup," it was announced this week by Rudy Rasmussen, chairman of the Roundup committee.

Well known locally for her work with the Orinda Dramateurs, Sherrill is an Acalanes High School graduate and is employed as receptionist for Dr. James C. Wasley, Orinda dentist.

In addition to reigning over the June 7 and 8 Roundup at St. Mary's College, the queen will appear on numerous radio and television programs to publicize the variety of attractions to be offered during the two-day event.

The two days will include a hole-in-one contest, an outdoor dance featuring Mourice Anger's orchestra, swimming, carnival rides, folk and square dance exhibitions, booths, a dog show, the appearance of "Effie" the elephant, and numerous other attractions, to be climaxed by a Sunday barbecue.

Pack 211 Family Night on May 9

Cub Pack 211 will hold family dinner night next Friday night, May 9, at 6:30 at Orinda Community Church, it was decided by officers and den mothers at a meeting Tuesday night at the home of Dr. Roger Stark.

Cubmaster Paul Douglos has arranged for the entertainment to be a program of dances by a group of Hopi Indians from New Mexico now stationed at Richmond reservation. Douglas felt this will be top entetrtainment and that the whole family would enjoy it, rather than just fathers and sons at a father and son night, as was previously planned.

Park Commission Plan Endorsed By Association

Weight of the Orinda Association was tossed this week onto the scales for formation of a Contra Costa Park Commission.

The association board session Monday night at Orinda School voted to endorse the resolution which the Contra Costa Park and Recreation Council is to present next Tuesday to the County Board of Supervisors, asking for creation of an advisory commission and appropriation of sufficient funds for a countywide park survey.

Secretary Charles Blue reported that he had talked with William Penn Mott Jr. about the matter, and that Mott, who has been active on the council, had explained the need for the project and had urged favorable action by the Orinda Association.

Other business at the meeting included:

1. DECISION THAT the joint Orinda Association- Orinda Chamber of Commerce road committee, headed by Everett Howe, will actively pursue a major phase of its intended operation—study of the parking and traffic problem in the Village.

2.—Decision to hold a Candidates' Night community meeting in late September or Early October. President Stanley Allen named Vice-President Kendrie Morrish chairman for the project. The Civic Affairs Committee will be asked to make the arrangements.

3.—NAMING OF Harry Lacey of 110 Moraga Highway as a director, to succeed Jack Rechtiene, who has moved from Orinda. Lacey was runner-up in Precinct 5 in last winter's association election, in which Rechtiene was chosen to the board from that precinct.

Board members present were Allen, Morrish, Blue, Howe, Jack Cooper and Peter Veitch. Absent were Jack Buchter, George Klement, Rechtiene and Kirk Miles. Miles and Mrs. Miles are now visiting Europe.

Open House Great Success at Schools

Open house at the Orinda schools this week was a tremendous success, according to Joseph Sheaff, superintendent of schools. "There was close to 100 per cent parent attendance," Sheaff said.

The event marked Public Schools Week.

Glorietta School held open house Monday night, and Orinda School on Tuesday night. The youngsters escorted their parents to the schools, where their work was exhibited in the rooms.

B. B.'s Graze School Children

Frequent complaints that children have been using B. B. guns in the vicinity of Glorietta School have been brought to the attention of Joseph Sheaff, superintendent of schools.

Sheaff said that evidently children in the neighborhood were shooting at birds or other objects with B. B. guns and that youngsters walking home from school had been grazed by pellets.

A county ordinance prohibits children under 16 carrying any type of firearms, including B. B. guns, without being accompanied by their parents or an adult. The gun may be confiscated if an unaccompanied child is caught using a gun, and the parents are held responsible.

Sheaff warned that children may be injured by a stray bullet or the child using the gun may accidentally shoot himself. Sheaff requested that parents check up on their youngsters to see if they are using guns when they are not with adults.

Mrs. Peter Patch In State Golf Tourney

Mrs. Peter Patch of Orinda was defeated by Barbara Romack of Sacramento in the April 24 semi-finals of the California State Women's Golf Championship at Pebble Beach.

Mrs. Patch scored a one up triumph oer Mrs. Wilson Atkins of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin F. Kelly of 391 Camino Sobrante returned recently from a business trip to Los Angeles.

Glorietta Group Victory Enforces Building Rules.

A temporary restraining order which had stopped construction of the Arthur H. Jacobsen residence on Glorietta Boulevard was lifted Monday after the owners agreed to abide by the building restrictions.

Attorney Joseph R. Creighton representing the Glorietta Improvement Association, which had obtained the injunction, explained that the suit will not be pressed so long as construction is in accordance with the plans approved by the association.

The suit was brought by the association and certain property owners as individuals.

THE LOT in question is part of the Moraga Glorietta Tract, which was subdivided by the Moraga Company in 1938. All lots in this tract are subject to restrictions prescribing the minimum size of house, minimum setback and sidelines, and requiring that no new residence can be built unless plans are approved by the association, which acquired plans - approval authority from the Moraga Company in 1946.

The association has similar authority in the Moraga Manor and Moraga Park Tracts and adjacent properties along Glorietta Boulevard.

The suit last week would not have been necessary, Creighton said, if the property owners had realized that these restrictions would be strictly enforced.

"Apparently someone is telling prospective builders that they can disregard the restrictions in their deed," he said, "but the California courts do enforce these restrictions. The Glorietta Plans Approval Committee checks each new house to see that plans are submitted. If no plans are submitted, any lot owner in the tract can stop construction."

TROUBLE OVER this lot, according to Creighton, started last fall when the association refused to approve the plans submitted. "New plans were then submitted and approved," Creighton said. "Construction commenced in March, but not until two weeks ago did it appear that the house was not being built according to the plans.

"When its written protest was not heeded, the association took the case to court. A temporary restraining order was immediately issued by Superior Judge Homer W. Patterson, on April 21, and construction stopped the next day. The hearing was set for April 28, but was not heard since settlement was reached."

On April 22 the owners met with the association's Board of Directors, composed of President Earl Doxsee, Vice-President Carl Meurk, Secretary Paul Pollaczek, Directors Frank Cayting, Maynard Buehler, and Creighton and Plans Approval Chairman Hart Livingston. The settlement called for a modified plan to be submitted which would bring the structure more nearly into compliance with neighboring houses, yet not require expensive changes on the work already completed. The modified plan was submitted and approved the next day, and on April 24 Creighton, as attorney for the association, stipulated that the injunction could be lifted.

SOME NEARBY property owners expressed surprise that they weren't asked to join in the suit. This fast suit was explained by President Dosee as due to shortage of time. Enough people were contacted so that the suit would be truly representative, he said, and, of course, any property owner was free to join or stay out as he might please.

Since the association is a corporation, it alone, and not its members, is responsible for its actions, Dosee explained, although it acts through officers chosen by the members. That is true of most of the improvement groups in this area.

Rotary Field Day Will Be Held on May 10

Plans for the second annual Rotary Field Day to be held Saturday, May 10, at Orinda School grounds were discussed at Wednesday's luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club at the Willows.

Frank Isola, physical education instructor for Orinda School District, told members plans for the day. Isola is scheduling the day's eents. Bob Nordquist is in charge of the program.

Last year's event was an outstanding success.

The second annual field day will begin at 10 a. m. Some 500 boys and girls will attend. The events will be games and races of skill for youngsters in grades 4 through 8. First, second and third prizes will be awarded, including 150 medals to be presented.

Separate events will be conducted for boys and girls.

Rotary President Joseph Sheaff gave a report on Orinda School District, discussing its problems at the Rotary meeting.

Directors to Ask Supervisors for Crossroad Parley

With the State Division of Highways' plans for Freeway work at Orinda Crossroads expected to be submitted to the County Board of Supervisors shortly, the Orinda Association's Board of Directors this week decided to ask for a conference with the supervisors.

The meeting will be sought when the county board has received the state plans, in the hope that discussion can be held before the supervisors come to any conclusion.

THE DECISION was made by the association directors at their monthly meeting Monday night at Orinda School, after Everett Howe, chairman of the joint Orinda Association-Orinda Chamber of Commerce road committee, had reported on the recent committee conference with District Engineer L. A. Waymouth of the Highways Division.

It was pointed out by the association board that the organization wished to work cooperatively with the supervisors in studying and discussing the state plans.

AT THE SESSION in Weymouth's office in San Francisco, Weymouth had stated that Crossroads plans were nearing completion. The project, he pointed out, would directly affect the north side of the state highway, not the south side.

Weymouth indicated that an overpass with a modified cloverleaf approach, including grade crossing separations, is what's in store for the Crossroads.

Ramsey Underwood, chamber president, and Nathan Gray for the association serve on the joint committee with Howe.

Work on Freeway Could Start Now, But Shy on Funds

"Next year should see an improvement at the Orinda Crossroads," Albert E. Simmons of the state division of highways said last week.

"By that time, signals there should be eliminated. "But," he added, that's unofficial. It's only a possibility."

Nevertheless, those words drew a spontaneous round of applause from the audience gathered at a meeting of the Pleasant Hill Improvement Association.

"That way," Simmons laughed, "we'll be moving the bottleneck up the road aways."

Simmons, assistant district engineer with the division, said work on the Oakland to the Monument freeway could begin immediately, if funds were available.

"The advance plan," he said, "is at the stage where we could start work tomorrow."

But, he said, it would cost about ten million dollars for work in the Walnut Creek area, and another ten million to the tunnel, and another ten million for another tunnel.

He had the same to say about work in the Monument area. "If plans were okayed we could go ahead tomorrow, he said. "But why spend money at the Monument when people can't even get there from the tunnel?"

Simmons' main point was that his office does the designing of highways. Getting money for the actual work was something else. That's in the highway commission's hands.

Also, he said, the highway commission is the agency responsible for deciding where the highways will go.

Simmons explained that his division plans and designs the roads. "We prepare a project report," he said. "It is then reviewed by the commission for cost, community needs, adequacy, and service.

"We try to estimate 20 years ahead. Now we're designing for 1970. We make a detailed study of what we need on a specific road.

"In the case of a hot spot, we'll make, perhaps, three separate studies."

To illustrate his point, Simmons unfurled a map, about 20 feet by five feet, covering only the Acalanes Junction and adjacent area.

He analyzed also the financing of such a project. What happens to the six cents a gallon gasoline tax paid in California?

After the federal government, the cities and counties get their share he said, the state ends up with two and a half cents for highways.

Then the money is divided sectionally and by the county "according to a predetermined formula," he said. Contra Costa County is guaranteed four per cent. Comparatively, San Francisco Countey gets 18 per cent.

"In 1951," he said, "it was estimated that 81 million dollars would fix the roads as they should be. Two million dollars have been allocated.

"It would take 40 years to catch up at that rate. It would take 80 years to catch up ten in the future."

Also, he said, costs are two and a half times as high as they were in

Is Real Jinx to Rail Commute Service Mechanical or Manpower Problems? . . .

Is that old bugaboo, mechanical difficulties, the "jinx" to commuters' hopes for revival of passenger commute service on the Sacramento Northern tracks?

Or are there other reasons which are major factors behind Western Pacific and Key System officials' reluctance?

Opinions differed widely this week, with railroad officials pointing to such facts as (1) Key System operates on a 600-volt power line and Sacramento Northern operates on a 1200-volt power line, and (2) the wheel treads of Sacramento Northern and Key System trains are different.

Others, however, declared that the mechanical problems are relatively minor, and that the real reason for the "can't-do-it" statements revolved around personnel.

MANPOWER requirements on trains, as necessitated by law and by union regulations, and Railway Labor Act retirement provisions were said by these sources to be the major reason for the negative attitude of railroad officials.

Meanwhile, typical John Q. Commuter sentiment was expressed by L. H. Curtis of 1178 Glen Road, Lafayette, who described himself "as just an ordinary guy with no axe to grind."

"The situation doesn't really bother me," observed Curtis, who is assistant operating manager for Pacific Transport Lines, freight and passenger steamship company in San Francisco. "I drive to and from work. But it seems a shame not to do something about the commuter service.

"MAYBE IT WOULD be too expensive to have train service. But possibly a more practical idea would be for the Key System to run buses here, along the route; people could change at 40th and Shafter or at Claremont."

It was pointed out by one area resident that the Railway Labor Act requires railroads to pay employees five years' retirement pay when the employees quit, after a certain length of employment.

"That's one of the main knots," he said. "The gauge system and the voltage are not insurmountable problems. Sacramento Northern and the Key System occupied joint trackage on 40th Street from Shafter to the Bay Bridge approach. As for the voltage, the Key System motors can be put in series, so that two cars would operate together on 1200 volts. That sort of thing is done in Southern California.

"Another thing — why does it have to be electrically run trains? Why couldn't it be Diesel engines and coaches?"

ANOTHER MAN recalled that when Sacramento Northern commute passenger trains were in operation, until 1941, they were changed from 1200 to 600 volts at 40th Street, to enable them to continue on, and across the Bay Bridge.

"The franchise on Shafter Avenue expired several years ago," he said. "Western Pacific has been continuing that run on sufferance, and hopes that the Union Street franchise, when granted, will take care of things.

"FROM A PHYSICAL standpoint, the manpower problem is a major issue. Union requirements necessitate paying a man for eight hours on a freight train or eight hours on a passenger train, no matter how little time he spends on each.

"State law requires regular passenger trains to have an engineer, a fireman, a conductor ,a head-end brakeman and a rear-end brakeman. The Key System has it easier — it must have a motorman, a conductor and a trainman for a unit of two cars."

This man expressed the thought that "in a growing community like this, it's a shame to have to depend entirely on buses." He speculated that the city of Oakland is hoping for abandonment of Sacramento Northern tracks, so that the S.N. tunnel could be used as a "pilot" tunnel and be enlarged, making it possible for Park Boulevard to lead into the tunnel and to the Shepard Canyon area.

Car Off Bank – Woman Uninjured

While driving west on Mt. Diablo Boulevard just east of Orinda Crossroads Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Myra Thompson Hallenbeck, 49, of 1685 Marguerite Court, Lafayette, apparently lost control of her car and the vehicle went off the roadbank, according to the California Highway Patrol.

However, Mrs. Hallenbeck was uninjured, the patrol reported.

W. P. Still Plans To Abandon Line Here to Oakland

Western Pacific Railroad is still planning to abandon some 16 miles of its Sacramento Northern tracks and to tear up the steel and sell it as scrap, G. H. Kneiss, assistant to the president of Western Pacific, stated this week.

These plans hinge on obtaining of a franchise in Oakland to build a half-mile track from 12th and Union to connect with the Western Pacific on First Street.

Application for such a franchise was made last January to the city of Oakland by the Oakland Terminal Railway, owned jointly by Western Pacific and Santa Fe Railroads. The application is still pending, after several hearings.

Kneiss reported that a letter has been written to the mayor and city council of Oakland, agreeing to certain restrictions.

"THESE RESTRICTIONS would limit operation to night traffic," he said, "and should remove objections which have been raised."

Granting of the franchise is expected within the next week or so, he said.

This would be followed by application to the Interstate Commerce Commission for authority to build, and by application of Sacramento Northern (owned entirely by Western Pacific) to I. C. C. for permission to abandon the tracks from West Lafayette station into Oakland.

THE 16 MILES slated for abandonment include eight miles from West Lafayette station to Oakland and another eight miles within Oakland, to 40th Street and Shafter Avenue.

Opposition to the Oakland franchise has come from the P. T. A., which objected to a railroad near 12th and Union, which is near the Cole School.

With abandonment of the tracks from West Lafayette station into Oakland, Contra Costa freight traffic would move into Oakland from Pittsburg, Kneiss said. Freight from the east would come to Oakland by way of Western Pacific tracks.

Prowler Smashes Pharmacy Door

Some enterprising would-be burglar smashed the plate-glass front door of Wright's Village Pharmacy at 79 Orinda Highway early Tuesday morning—but apparently left without any loot.

Owner Buryl Wright stated yesterday that the prowler may have been scared away by the approach of the Contra Costa Patrol. The merchant patrol, discovering the break-in, notified the sheriff's office, which in turn called Wright. The smash-in occurred about 3 a.m.

The entire glass plate was broken, and glass fragments were scattered over the floor. No rock or stone was found nearby. Wright said that no merchandise seemed to be missing.

Four years ago, a similar break-in at the pharmacy resulted in theft of $100 in cash, plus cameras, clocks and other items.

Sgt. Lea Appeals To Rotary Club For Blood Donors

Master Sergeant Fred Lea of the United States Marine Corps last week made an appeal to Orinda Rotarians to give blood when the Bloodmobile arrives at Orinda Community Church next monday. He spoke at the weekly Rotary luncheon meeting at the Willows.

Lea made a particularly strong appeal because he has seen the lives of servicemen saved when blood transfusions were given on the battlefields of Korea. Every donor should be very proud he has donated a pint of blood. He has made a real contribution toward his country.

Leighton MacGregor was program chairman.

About our happy Country Folks

By EDITH BOLMAN

DO YOU WANT TO BUY A HORSE? Do you want to get rid of a horse you bought last year? Statues, we mean — not the prancing, snorting, real live animal but a little something that would look fetching on the mantle along with "God Bless Our Home" done in cross-stitch.

An auction, to wit — where you can pick up a charming little antique that someone with a modern house can't use anymore — or if you're the one with the modern house, maybe you wouldn't mind contributing the little Victorian love seat with the busted slats to the members of the Alta Bates Association because they are right clever at fixing things up to bring a good price at a fun auction for a worthwhile cause.

Idea: contribute the seat with the slats, then go to the auction and buy it back all renovated, thereby saving the wear and tear of having it fixed by an upholsterer and deciding what fabric to use for a covering.

Food, too — and inasmuch as it is bargain day, the dinner is only $1, so obvjously you can't afford to stay home. The vital statistics are: Auction to be held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Woodburn K. Lamb, 1 Oak Arbor Road, Saturday, May 10, at 2:30 p. m., and buffet supper at 5:30 from the Chuck Wagon. For reservation call Mrs. Freeman Browne at Olympic 2-1588. Reason for doing all this is that Alta Bates is a non-profit community hospital, so a little extra money is needed beyond the regular budgeted allotment for necessary equipment.

In other words — if you fall down at the auction and break your toe, you will be charmed to discover that Alta Bates has a very fine toe-fixing piece of equipment, paid for by just such actions, and it is just the gimmick to fix you up.

If you have anything you would like to contribute (not clothes — we don't know why unless it is supposed to be a warm summer, but anyway we were told no clothes), please call Joseph Murphy at Orinda 7411 to make arrangements for pickups (referring to the auction, of course), draying and storage. We have a friend who collects Oriental things, and she picked up a little dandy at last year's auction, so come along and be in good voice.

BREATHES THERE A GIRL with soul so dead who never to herself has said, "Goody, goody, another fashion show" — what is it about clothes, anyway, that makes the feminine heart flutter with excitement? Is it because they make you look like what you ain't — and if you hadn't gone you wouldn't have sawn and couldn'ta gone home and tried to duplicate it so that you wouldn'ta looked like what you ain't?

Well, anyway, Daphne Branch, the Children's Hospital contingent from Acalanes, will be modeling clothes from Steele's, Joanne's and Miss and Mrs. in Walnut Creek. The Carroll Ranch will be the place, 2 o'clock tomorrow, and call Ann Seulberger at Orinda 2297 for tickets.

Don Reed will play background music, Nancy Carroll is in charge of refreshments, Pat Cavallero, models, and Alice Spencer is in charge of the branch. The models, all seniors, will be Alice Spencer, Ann Seulberger, Kay Goodwin, Joanne Newman, Joan Gordan, Pat Randall, Paula Corey, Renee La Salle, Sandra White, Robin Hooper, Nancy Carroll, Gerry Nardine and Pat Cavallero.

NOW, JUST HOW MANY CHILDREN does Mrs. Fred Federighi have? We hear from a reliable source that 37 of them are celebrating Mothers' Day at her home. They are going to eat barbecued food, dance, one of them plays the accordion, play ping pong, darts and basketball from noon until 8 o'clock.

If you feel that you have been discriminiated against because you only have six or eight children, Mrs. Federighi will be most cooperative about supplying you with a few more — just call her at Orinda 2042, and she will put you in touch with Mrs. S. H. McAllistetr in Lafayette, who arranges the Sunday parties for the boys from Stoneman Hospital.

These boys, it seems, would rather be a part of country family life on Sundays than anything else they could do — and so many Orinda and Lafayette families who are fortunate enough to enjoy the beauty and casual fun of country living seven days a week are anxious to share that fun with those boys from the hospital at least once every so often.

At Mrs. Federighi's Mothers' Day party, there will be 25 GI's and 12 girls from Mills College who also want to get in on the festivities. The whole idea is a little like the Blood Bank — those boys give so much for us, it is nice to know that we can add a little to their health and happiness with so little effort.

The most recent "Operation Houseparty" was held last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Messersmith. This time the following Orinda co-hostesses collaborated on food and brought fried chicken, potatoes au gratin and other good things: Mesdames Ray Wulfert, Paul Pollaczek, Carl Meurck, Hart Livingston, Frank McMillan, Jess Burns, Hamilton Stevenson, Alex Ganiats and Richard Tharp, and Mr. T. M. Harrer. Rolls contributed by Orinda Bakery.

Both Mrs. McAllister and Mrs. Messersmith said they had never seen a group have such a wonderful time, and no wonder — they were officially "housewarming" the Messersmiths' new recreation room and glassed-in patio which could take any of the "beer and skittles" which accidentally landed on the floor. Fancy having your house initiated by the Army and the Air Force!

GREAT STARS AND GARTERS, listen to this one! A night club in Mexico made up of just a thatched roof and a conveniently-placed beach and surf. Wierd tom-tom music and a pair of dancers with their skins gilded. The same old "boy meet girl" situation and everything is hunky-dory until the third dancer, an ebony black giant appears and — obviously — the Triangle problem.

After lalligagging around the pavilion for a certain length of time, they romp down to the surf, cast brilliant torch flares in the sand and there, in the waves and the sand, they finish their dance.

The audience, in the spirit of the thing, pockets any Oysters Rockefeller left on their plates and hot-foots it down to the surf also, to watch the grand finale.

That was the Copa Cabana in Acapulco. Another is the Club Perla, which is made up of a series of box-like tiers nestling on the side of a cliff rather like theater boxes. The cliff goes straight down to a gorge where the water swishes in and out.

On the opposite cliff a boy times the water and times his dive of 135 feet into the gorge so that he and the swish arrive at the same time. The boys are trained from childhood starting at the base of the cliff and working up. Jeepers!

It was the William Vaughans who saw all these spectacular sights and then, just as though that weren't enough excitement, they sat through an earthquake which was severe enough to buckle one patio in the hotel so badly that it had to be closed. No adobe bricks fell on the Vaughans' heads but the plaster from the walls fell on their beds, and weren't they glad they were in the patio instead? The one that didn't buckle, that is.

Other things they encountered which sounded a little unusual: They rented a Hertz drive-yourself car and drove to Taxco and Acapulco. They ate dinner every night around midnight and had papaya trees right outside their window. They ran into the Wayne Millers from Orinda, whom they had never met before. They occupied a room in Cortez' summer palace, the Hacienda Vista Hermosa, which was 40 by 23 feet, and the iron doorkey was a foot long.

Now, of all things, they are planning a trip to Omaha! Humph.

THE GAMMA PHI BETA Mothers Club had a delightful luncheon and fashion show at the chapter house in Berkeley. Localites who put on their hats and gloves to watch their daughters or their friends' daughters model their own clothes were Mesdames Clyde Lamborn, Kendric Morrish, Melvin Jacobus, Ford Tussing, Thomas Tryon, William Everts and Herbert Dwight.

THE SUPPER PARTY at Orinda Country Club last Saturday night was loads of fun and well attended. An innovation too — a midnight snack (snack, my eye — ham, turkey, meat balls, corn, peas, several salads and cinnamon rolls) after an evening of dancing or as a drop-in bite to eat after the movies.

One friskey table of University of California inmates was assembled by Gay Bolman for 10 couples who had previously attended the wedding of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority sister Pat Corley. Such charlestoning hasn't been seen around these parts for many a moon.

ONE OF THE LAST FASHION LUNCHEONS at the soon-to-be-gone Art and Garden Center will be next Wednesday at 12:30. The weather is guaranteed, so lunch will be served in the lovely gardens, and the clothes will be from Carolyn Kelsey.

What with spring in the air and the lure of something rare and about-to-disappear, there will be a crowd, so be sure to make your reservataions at the Junior League office at the Claremont Hotel or at the Art and Garden Center in Walnut Creek.

And one last parting shot. A number of the Mills girls at the Messersmiths' party remarked they were so glad that they had given blood when they heard the personal experiences of th Stoneman Hospital boys and how much th blood transfusions had meant to them — so remember — Monday will be Blood Bank Day in Orinda!

That is all.

Work on Freeway 'Just' Needs Money

1940 — an all-time high.

Simmons agreed that the Tunnel Road needed special attention. He said that traffic there has increased 20 per cent each year. A 1951 estimate placed traffic at 30,000 cars a day.

In reference to private property that may come in the way of the freeway, Simmons said, "We won't know the actual requirements for six months."

He said his office would offer full cooperation wherever or whenever it is definitely known.

"We can't determine the exact route until the final state of designing," he said. "Especially in the case of rolling terrain where we could have a very irregular right of way."

He said the right-of-way for a state highway is 142 feet.

In conclusion, Simmons said regardless of the roads and traffic, the public should be accident conscious. He said that modern roads and cars are better than ever now, and that each invites speed.

"In my considered opinion," he said, "the average driver is not capable of handling such a powerful piece of equipment as the modern automobile."

Now We Know – It's Been Hot, Cold, Dry, Wet in Orinda Over the Years

By CARRIE L. BROWN

The question has often been asked: What kind of weather, summer and winter, is "normal" for Orinda?

Arthur Bowman, weather coordinator for the Orinda area, examined the local weather reports which date back only to 1944 and are filed in the Federal Building in San Francisco.

HE FOUND THAT for 1944 through 1950 the average maximum temperature was 68.2 degrees and the average minimum, 42.7. Average temperature for the whole period was 55.5.

Highest temperature was 109; lowest, 15.

Average rainfall was 27.7 inches.

GOING BACK historically, one reads in Purcell's "History of Contra Costa County" some interesting weather recordings published in the Contra Costa Gazette at Martinez. One can infer that Orinda, just farming country then, had about the same visitation of snow, floods, droughts and heat waves.

In 1862-63 there had been but 10.8 inches of rain up to January, when 15.36 inches fell! The country for miles was submerged, and all roads for a time were impassable.

By December 29, 1883, the weather year's rainfall was only 2.13 inches. On January 1, 1884, there was a hard snowstorm, and February's rains brought rainfall up to 6.12 inches. In 1888, only 12.19 inches of rain had fallen by March 8.

ACCORDING to Dr. Marsh's report 'way back in the 1840's to the Secretary of the Interior, the Contra Costa valleys enjoyed only beautiful weather and seasonable rains!

In 1890, 40.53 of rain had fallen by May 14. Brentwood, Walnut Creek and Pacheco Valley were one sheet of water to Concord. Stages were delayed, telephone wires down and towns isolated by the bad roads.

Sleepy Hollow Road Job Bids – NEXT Tuesday

In case you were wondering which announcement was correct in last week's Orinda Sun regarding opening of bids for reconstruction of portions of Lombardy Lane, Tarry Lane and Sleepy Hollow Lane — the legal notice, on page 2, was right.

As stated in that notice, which appears again in this week's paper, bids will be opened by the Board of Supervisors at 3 p.m. next Tuesday.

A news item on page 1 erroneously gave Tuesday of this week as the date.

Bids for reconstruction and construction of portions of North Lane and Loma Vista Drive will be opened by the board at 3 p.m. May 13.

Totaling 4000 feet in length, these two projects include North Lane from Orinda Highway to Ardilla Road, and Loma Vista Drive from El Toyonal to the intersection of La Madronal and El Toyonal.

Spring fever hit you? Would you like to dance and romance? Save Saturday evening, May 17, from 7 until 1. Take a drive out to beautiful Diablo Country Club, where the Orinda Nursery School Association is holding its annual spring informal.

Music to dance to will be supplied by Gordon Heche and his orchestra. It's to be a dinner-dance, and a warm, early summer's evening is ordered. Everyone's invited.

Cocktails start at 7. Dinner will be served from 8:30 to 10. Dancing will start at 9 and last until 1. Another highlight will be the awarding of some very elegant prizes. Ask the mothers about them.

President of the Nursery School is Mrs. James Seaman. Mrs. Lyle York is dance-ticket chairman. Other women helping with plans are Mesdames Robert Kleyn-Schorel, Joseph Dirickx and Robert Miller.

Your Garden

For Fine, Delicious Tomatoes, These Pointers Are Important to Remember

By BERT WRIGHT

IT BRINGS JOY to the heart of any home gardener to be able to grow fine big yields of delicious tomatoes. Fresh from the garden, they add a tasty treat to any meal. And they can be preserved for later use during the long winter months.

There are nine important points to remember if you want a good tomato crop. They are:

MAKE A FINE SEED BED. This will be comparatively simple if the ground is spaded when it can be easily crumbled with a slap of the spade.

Usually a steel-toothed rake does the work very well, though many gardeners find the additional use of a hoe, prior to raking, very helpful. The important thing is to get a good lump-free seed bed.

USE ONLY GOOD STRONG plants. A good plant is one that is seven to nine weeks old from seed, 8 to 12 inches tall, with a sturdy stem, and leaf spread equal to its height.

Color is medium to dark green with purplish tinge. The stems and leaves are neither soft and sappy nor hard and woody.

PLANT WILT-RESISTANT varieties.

Improved Pearson, Pritchard, Marglobe and Rutgers are good varieties and are resistant to Fusarium wilt.

SET OUT AS EARLY as weather will permit.

For early tomatoes, set out the plants as soon as they will no longer be menaced by frost.

TRANSPLANT CAREFULLY. Set plants two or three inches deeper than they were in the pot or flat. Mix an amount of complete plant food equal to a level tablespoonful with the soil in the bottom of the hole, add one inch of soil and set out the plant.

It is well to leave a depression of about one inch around the plant. Fill with water immediately after planting to help settle the soil around the plants roots and to make the plant food quickly available.

SPACE CORRECTLY. In rows that are 48 inches apart, set plants at 42-inch intervals. If rows are narrower, make spacing between plants wider.

Certain varieties will require somewhat more space, so check this point with your grower.

CONTROL OF WEEDS. Get rid of weeds while they are small.

Frequent shallow cultivation is needed. Pull or hoe out weeds in the row.

STAKE ONLY where space is limited.

Where space is limited, staking is recommended because it permits more plants to be grown and thus increases the yield per area.

PERMIT THE FRUIT to ripen on the vine. Vine - ripened tomatoes look better and taste better than partially green tomatoes.

Where, because of lack of space or other reasons, gardeners wish to stake their plants, one good method is with a single-stake. Set into the ground next to each plant a strong stake four to five feet long.

WHEN PLANTS START to branch, tie a strong cord firmly around the stake and loosely around the stem of the plant, just below each fruit cluster. Remove all secondary stems as soon as they appear.

For two-stem pruning, proceed in the same way, but let the first secondary stem that appear develop along with the main stem. Tie the two stems with the same cord.

Mrs. Hilda Blaschek Returns to New York

Mrs. Hilda Blaschek flew home recently after spending a few months with her two sons and their families. They are Mr. and Mrs. Reinhardt Blaschek and daughter Bonnie of 3278 Helen Lane and Mr. and Mrs. John Blaschek and daughter Lynn of 3923 Helen Lane, Lafayette Valley Estates.

Mrs. Hilda Blaschek lives in Millerton, N. Y., with Mrs. Richcard Waldorph, her daughter and son-in-law.

Rev. Lowell to Discuss Prayer

The first service at Orinda Community Church Sunday morning, at 9:30, will have as its adult feature the first of two discussions led by the Rev. Lowell Young on "Effective Prayer." Mr. and Mrs. Young are living in the Kirk Miles home, and formerly lived in Atascadero, where Mr. Young was minister of the Community Church.

These discussions are related to the previous ones in the 9:30 series under Dr. Lyon, Dr. Price and Dr. Butcher. Church school classes and worship for children and youth are held at the same hour.

At 11 a.m. Rev. Fred Morrow will conduct the second worship service and preach on "The Purpose of a Church." The sermon will have special reference to the recent Harpers publication of Thomas Sugrue's "A Catholic Speaks His Mind." An anthem and incidental choral responses will be given by the Chapel choir, directed by Margaret Popovich.

The Orinda congregation is to cooperate in the united evening service to be held in the Walnut Recreation Center at 7:30 Sunday evening. Speaker is Rev. Roy L. Smith, outstanding preacher, author and church statesman.

The service is sponsored by the Central Contra Costa County Ministerial Association, representing all cooperating Protestant groups, and has been planned for many months as an opportunity to take advantage of the presence in the area of leading Methodists attending the quadrennial General Conference.

Members of the Pilgrim Fellowship will meet at their usual time, 7 o'clock, to attend this interdenominational gathering in a body.

Fowler Elected Council Delegate

C. Ray Fowler, member and youth leader of Orinda Community Church, has been elected as an official delegate to the biennial meeting of the General Council of Congregational-Christian Churches to be held in Claremont, Calif., June 17-25. He will represent a Conference unit of three churches, the other two of which are the First Congregational of Alameda and the Broadmoor of San Leandro.

Special interest centers in this Council because of a recent ruling in the Court of Appeals in New York State which reverses a local court's man on consummating a merger of the General Council and its agencies with the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

The four-to-one decision opens the way for a possible carrying out of the desires of an overwhelming majority of church members who favor the largest possible measure of church union in what would be called the "United Church of Christ."

Calvary Start Of Glory Road – Sermon Theme

"The Glory Road Begins at Calvary" will be the sermon topic at Our Savior's Lutheran Church in Lafayette on Sunday.

Commenting on his sermon, Pastor Luther Berven states:

"The Cross reveals the love of god for sinful man. Jesus gave His life, so that He could say to seeking humanity, 'I am the way ,and the truth, and the life.' The walk with Jesus must begin at Calvary; no one will experience eternal life, unless He first knows Jesus as his Savior here on this earth."

Identical services will be held at 8 and 11 a.m.

A congregational picnic will be held on the church grounds at 5 p.m. Sunday.

Midweek Bible classes will be held on Wednesday at 10 a. m. and 8 p.m.

Baptism Will Be Topic of Sermon

Rev. Joel S. Peterson, pastor of Lafayette Covenant Church, has chosen as his sermon subject Sunday morning, "Should I Be Baptized?"

At the 7 p.m. service the pastor will deal with the subject, "Is Profanity Sin?"

The congregation shared in a potluck dinner last Sunday after the morning worship in honor of the guest preacher, Dr. T. W. Anderson, president of the Mission Covenant Churches of America.

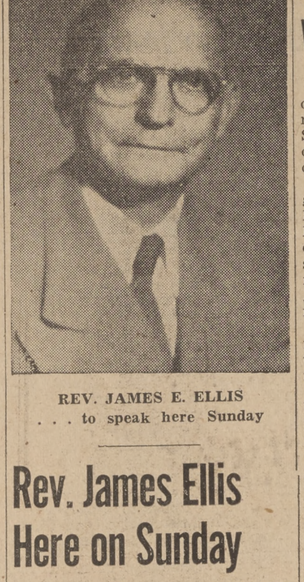

A sizable delegation is expected to attend the concert in the Oakland Covenant Church this evening. The concert is a feature of the West Coast tour of the choir of North Park College of Chicago.

Miller to Preach At St. Stephen's

Dr. Charles Whiston, whose Sunday Afternoon services at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church have come to mean so much to Orindans, has a long-made commitment in Arizona to fulfill.

During his absence, Randolph Miller, of St. Albans, who is leaving June 1 to take the chair of Religious Education at Harvard University, will speak. His many friends are grateful for this opportunity to hear him on May 11 before his move East.

The following Sunday, May 18, Frank L. Titus, Rector of All Soul's Church, Syracuse, N. Y., will preach. Bishop Block has invited him to come West.

REV. JAMES E. ELLIS
. . . to speak here Sunday

Rev. James Ellis Here on Sunday

Lafayette Community Methodist Church has given $2000 towards the building of a chapel and parsonage at Villa Quesada, Costa Rica. Rev. James E. Ellis on Sunday will tell what this has meant to the people of Villa Quesada.

Mallary Luminous Sculpture Goes On Exhibit at Gump's on Tuesday

Starting next Tuesday and continuing to June 7, luminous sculpture by Robert Mallary, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin E. Mallary of Overhill Road, Orinda, will be on exhibit at Gump's Gallery, 250 Post Street, San Francisco.

At the same time Gump's will present an exhibition of original drawings by Henry Moore, Ben Nicholson and John Tunnard, outstanding contemporary English artists.

In Mallary's polychrome medium, the use of color not only enhances the forms but is essential if they are to be seen at all. The basic materials in this luminous sculpture are thin, transparent acetate sheets, used in conjunction with luminescent pigments and dyes. These plastic sheets are cut into interesting contours, then, bent, twisted, folded and finally fastened to hold a permanent form.

THE FLOURESCENT pigments and dyes are applied sometimes prior to, sometimes after, the folding process. Some of the sculpture consists of constructions in the forms of mobiles, the remainder are stabiles.

Time magazine ran a full-color page on Robert Mallary's luminous mobiles in March. "Color in the Dark," as the article was called, said:

"MALLARY IS PROBABLY the only artist who chooses to do most of his work in the dark. He molds his abstract sculptures from transparent acetate, paints them with luminous pigments which glow only under ultra-violet 'black light.' Hung from wires and set gently twirling in a dark room, Mallary's mobiles resemble pallid but unfaded fireworks. Like fireworks, each combines three dimensional form, color and motion in a single work, all glowing eerily in the invisible beams of ultra-violet light."

Mallary's father is a member of the State Personnel Board. His mother, Laura Mallary, is Orinda postmaster.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I loved the April 18 issue of the Orinda Sun, what with my picture on the front page, "Mrs. Sheldon ill with Pneumonia" in headlines yet on page 3, and I thought I would pop a gusset at Edith Bolman's first paragraph! I haven't laughed so hard in months.

You may publish this letter in the Orinda Sun if you wish, because I would like to have all my good friends in Orinda know that I am now at the Livermore Sanitarium, having the time of my life!

My husband drove me down here Tuesday evening, April 15, from Peralta Hospital. They still keep me in bed all the time, but I love it here and I am looking forward to complete recovery this time from pneumonia.

I would love to receive a postcard, note or letter from any of my friends who have time to write. The address here is Box S, or Livermore Sanitarium, or 954 South L Street, Livermore. Take your pick, friends, but I will be here for quite a long time, and mail will be the biggest morale booster I can think of.

I don't need a thing, I can get everything here, but I would enjoy hearing about what is going on in Orinda!

Yesterday I weighed 111½ pounds, which is the least I have weighed since I was about 12 years old — after all, I am five feet, seven and three-quarters inches tall. But just give them time here and they will fatten me up because the food is perfect — better than I can cook at home!

Sincerely,
INEZ SHELDON

Supervisors Say Road Bonds Mean Saving on Budget

The Board of Supervisors declares that passage of Proposition A, the $10,250,000 county road bond issue on the June 3 ballot, will result in a reduction of from 2 to 10 cents or more on the county road budget.

The board's announcement, which stressed that the reduced cost referred only to the highways portion of the county budget, came after a detailed study of county finances that took into consideration gasoline tax allocations to the county, capital expenditures on highways and maintenance under the usual road program.

COUNTY ADMINISTRATOR D. M. Teeter met with the board members recently to clear up details of the bond election.

This statement was issued by the board:

"It is the firm belief of the Board of Supervisors that the highway program proposed under the Tudor recommndations can be accomplished at a cost 2 cents to 10 cents less on each $100 of assessed valuation (and possibly more) than the amounts now absorbed for road purposes."

JOSEPH L. JUDSON, chairman of the Contra Costa Citizens' Highway Committee of 100, commented:

"The statement of the Board of Supervisors is of prime interest to every taxpayer in the county. We get a tax reduction, road-wise, and we get the sorely required improved highways. If we received the minimum of 2 cents on the road portion of the budget, we will have gained considerably for we also gain our highways improvement."

RALPH R. ARNOLD of Martinez, retired Contra Costa County surveyor, whose 1930 county highways construction would be replaced for many miles under the bond proposal, has announced himself "as a YES voter who is trying to get many more YES votes."

Arnold, who retired in 1939 after 24 years of service, made his expression of approval at the office of the Citizens' Highway Committee.

"No one can question the need of modernization of our highway system," Arnold said. "When we can obtain them at no more cost than we now absorb on highways and possibly at a saving, we should grasp the opportunity."

County Mayors Thumb Down Road Bond Issue

The proposed $10,250,000 bond issue for county roads will not sufficiently help the county's cities.

For that reason a group of mayors from cities within the county voted to oppose the proposal.

"It'll put a burden on the taxpayer within the city," Mayor Joseph Bell said. "But the work won't benefit the city very much."

Bell was one of six mayors attending a meeting of the Contra Costa Mayors Conference last week in El Cerrito.

Bell said the vote was unanimous, but that several mayors did not attend the meeting.

John Hughes, secretary for the group, said overemphasis on rural roads was given as one of the reasons for the organization's stand.

Absentee Ballots

Absentee ballots for the annual school trustee election May 16 may be obtained by making application between April 26 and May 10, County Superintendent B. O. Wilson announces.

Letters to the Editor

Editor:

I have read with interest your article in the Sun, April 25, "Revival of Service," concerning passenger division on the Sacramento Northern railroad. I must congratulate you as a champion of a noble cause as it will mean a great deal for the entire county if passenger service can be resumed to Oakland and San Francisco.

I know all the obstacles the railroads will present and I think I know why they do not wish to cater to the public by going ahead with it. I will herein knock holes in most of those obstacles, and the other reason I will not print. You can call it personal selfishness, if you care.

The Key System does not wish to cooperate because it is using every means possible to get the existing rails torn off the bridge in favor of busses. It has junked the street cars and portions of strategic key lines in the East Bay area. The stock holders in the line prefer buses for personal reasons — the comfort and convenience of the traveling public comes last.

It takes one hour during the peak period now to cross the bridge. What will be the condition if the company is allowed to put on more buses? The trains roll right along. More passengers, more cars, and they all get there at once. It is not the rails that are killing the commute business; only the poor schedules and slow operation of the buses. They take off a train and try to pack all the passengers into one bus.

The electric train runs from Concord to San Francisco in 35 minutes. Right now it takes 35 minutes just to beat the Orinda red light, 15 minutes at the Martinez Pleasant Hill Road crossing, 20 minutes fighting past road gangs west of the tunnel and the upheaval on Broadway in Oakland. The rolling time and the one hour, more or less, at and on the bridge, and four times the normal gas consumption, and the bus cannot travel any faster than the car ahead of it. No wonder the commute trade is falling off or is below normal.

The average person is almost forced to drag out the county in a futile effort to get to the job. With electric trains running, a person could dash over to the nearest point of contact, leave the car or let the family pick him up on return, and be in San Francisco before the bus could clear Orinda. And oh boy, how about that extra hour of sleep in the wee hours of morning.

The State of California should not allow the rail removal off the bridge. We are setting up disaster squads and all the things that go with it, but no one has thought of mass evacuation of San Francisco or Oakland. The Key System and Sacramento Northern R. R. is the answer. Jointly they could pool cars and move more people in an hour than the buses combined could move in a week. In an emergency, a bus could not get within a mile of the bridge let alone cross it.

There is no comparison between 1940 and today in travel and population in Contra Costa County. Towns that were villages then are cities now. There are more houses in the county now than there were people then. I would venture to say right now there is call for more travel between towns adjacent in the county than the total commute trade of that time. Forget that bugaboo, give us rapid transportation and there will be more patronage than anyone could imagine. Most anyone in the county would be glad to leave the heap at home if he could get to the city all in one piece in a fraction of the time, and forget the parking problem and expense after they got there.

Let us make a campaign of this thing. Only it should include Pittsburg and Antioch; they are manufacturing towns and sadly in need of transportation to other points. There are people all over the county who would like to work there if the transportation were better. And they have as much right to want transportation to the City as we.

The big wigs in Sacramento used to dash to San Francisco in an hour and a half over the Sacramento Northern R. R. Now they have to foot it or wait for the tri-weekly Southern Pacific that takes three hours. This county grew to an unheard of increase in population and expansion almost overnight, but people have kept to the old horse and buggy days with their ideas of advance. Yes, we have a planning and zoning board, but they are worrying for fear some neighbor might want to own a pet. And if a corporation wants to start a factory to hire help, that's out too. Whatever it is, they are against it.

A couple months ago the Key System was trying to dispose of 60 or 90 of their multiple unit cars. In the absence of other rolling stock, these are very good. And don't tell me they are not geared for the bridge. The Sacramento Northern used to run on the Key tracks from 40th and Shafter over the bridge to San Francisco. All broad gauge tracks are uniform. What did they do about the voltage then? If that is not satisfactory, their happens to be a multitude of 1200 volt steel cars idle from the Pacific Electric Lines in Los Angeles, known to us as the former Red Cars of the S. P. that ran over the bridge from Oakland and Berkeley.

The roadbed is in good condition now — for high speed it would need more ballast — but it is usable. There are enough passing tracks. The crossing signals are now working for the present use. Maintenance of the road is kept up for freight trains.

Furthermore, the Key trains are running on the old S. P. rails from Dwight Way to Solano in Thousand Oaks, along Shattuck Avenue in Berkeley. And they operated over S. P. rails in Oakland from Melrose to Havenscourt. In these two instances they also used the original S. P. trolley wires. The Western Pacific went to great expense and trouble fitting out what they call the train of tomorrow, the Vista Dome, the hot shot from San Francisco to Chicago. Speed and time are a part of their selling point; but what do they do about it? They hike their passengers over the bay on the S. P. ferry boat, get aboard the Western Pacific hot shot at the S. P. Oakland Mole, swing onto their own tracks at third Street in Oakland, then meander up through Niles Canyon winding for four hours to Sacramento. The trip is almost chilled before they clear Sacramento.

With the Sacramento Northern in operation they could load up their own fast electric cars at the bridge terminal in San Francisco, whisk them through to Sacramento and then on with the Vista Dome train of tomorrow and save the passengers two hours running time. Also knock that time saved off the advertised schedule.

If they then desired to make a few extra dimes, sell Santa Fe the idea, too. Let Santa Fe transfer San Francisco passengers to the electric at Port Chicago for a fast ride to the bridge terminal in San Francisco instead of dumping them out into jitneys at 40th and San Pablo in Oakland and fighting their way across the lower level of the bridge. This would save the Santa Fe one hour or more. This would make San Francisco feel chesty, too. They would then be able to say, we have a transcontinental railroad at last, bringing in the tourists and weary travelers to the western shrine and all the way on shiny steel.

Mr. Editor, more power for your program of advance.

Yours Truly,
Bob Weldon

Park Council To Ask County's OK For Survey Funds

Contra Costa Park Council will go before the board of supervisors Tuesday with two recommendations:

(1) That the board appoint an unpaid advisory park commission, and (2) that an appropriation be made for a survey and master plan for parks.

Members of the council and various county organizations met April 24 at Lafayette School. Speakers at the meeting were Dr. Herbert Mason, president of the Regional Parks Association and University of California botanist, and Thomas Vanasek, chairman of the county flood control and water conservation committee.

Dr. Mason urged the council to plea quick action and immediate purchase of land, particularly in the lower Wildcat Canyon area, near Richmond.

John Nejedly of Walnut Creek, Assembly candidate in the 10th District, spoke briefly, stating that plans for county park development are included in his platform.

Among those present were representatives from the Walnut Creek Women's Club, Walnut Creek Elementary School, Walnut Creek Recreation Council, Gregory Gardens Improvement Club, Mt. Diablo P.T.A. and Walnut Creek Branch of American Association of University Women.

Appointed to the council's board of directors were Stanley A. Allen, Orinda; Herbert Perry Jr., Antioch, and Dr. Ray Casey, Bethel Island.

Concert Group's Member-Drive Opens on May 12

Opening date for the membership campaign week of Acalanes Community Concert Association has been announced as Monday, May 12. Purpose of this year's drive, as in other years, is to accept renewal memberships from past members and to enroll new members for a series of concerts to be given in Acalanes High School Auditorium.

Attendance at the concerts is by membership only, it is pointed out by Oscar Busch, membership chairman for the campaign. While a canvass will be made in the territory east of the Tunnel, Hester Hoffman, association secretary, says that a campaign headquarters will be kept open from 9 to 5 at the Pacific Gas and Electric Company office in Walnut Creek to accept memberships there.

During the past four years association members have had an opportunity to see and hear such outstanding artists as William Primrose, violist; Martha Lipton, mezzo-soprano; Slavensky Ballet troupe; the de Paur Infantry Chorus; Sascha Gorodnitzky, pianist; the Teltschick brothers, duo-pianists; Dorothy Warenskjold, soprano; Mata and Hari, dance satirists.

Membership fees are $6 for adults and $3 for students. The association guarantees a minimum of three concerts, but four concerts have always been presented.

Training Classes Announced by Girl Scout Council

The Training Committee of the Diablo Valley Area Girl Scout Council has arranged the following spring training classes for leaders.

A course in water safety and life saving will be offered by the Council beginning Monday, 10 to 12 a.m. and on every Monday and Tuesday following until a total of 17 hours have been completed. This will be nine sessions or four and a half weeks of 2 hour sessions.

Mrs. Harrold Hawley, Red Cross water safety instructor, will instruct the course. Mrs. Hawley has had teaching experience in the summer swim program at Berkeley high and Acalanes. This course is primarily designed for adults wishing to use the swimming training in connection with girl scout leadership.

A TROOP CAMP licensing course will start on May 15, 9:30 a.m., at the Walnut Creek Recreation Park. Miss Jeanne Christie, Girl Scout Executive, will be the instructor.

The work shop classes at Acalanes under the direction of Mrs. Phylis Jones are open for additional registration. Due to the nature of these classes the registration will be open for the duration of the training session. The work shops are held each Thursday evening from 8 to 10 p.m. in Room 203 at Acalanes.

THOSE INTERESTED in registering for the water safety and troop camp licensing course may do so by phoning the training chairman, Mrs. Burwell Spurlock, Lafayette 3307.

Big Demand for 'Slow' Signs

Safety minded persons in this area are still purchasing and ordering the "SLOW — Children at Play" signs offered initially two weeks ago by the SUNS.

The SUNS have put in their third order to the Frank Sellers Sign Company for additional signs. The first order was depleted within three days, while the second went faster.

The problem has been that the supply has not kept up with the demand. It takes almost five days to complete an order of 25 signs — from cutting out at the cabinet shop to the final weather-proofing at the paint shop.

Early next week our third order of 100 will be delivered and it should fill the demand for more than a week.

For the next few days — until Monday — we suggest you call before you come in to pick up your signs.

IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATIONS and similar organizations have been enthusiastic over obtaining these signs at the low cast price of $1.75. They ordinarily retail for $2.50.

Orders are still being taken and if any of the three SUNS offices happen to be out, people may feel assured the signs will be obtained for them.

THE SUNS ARE offering the signs as a public service and they may be purchased at the Walnut Creek Sun office, 1409 Main Street, above Thompson Electric; the Lafayette Sun and Orinda Sun office, 1000 Orchard Road, Lafayette; and the Orinda Pixie Shop in Orinda Village.

Because of the cost-price arrangement, there can be no billing or delivery.

Mt. Diablo Council Cub Scouts Plan Part in El Cerrito Boy Scout Circus

Cub Scouts of the Mt. Diablo Council will take part in the Boy Scout Circus on May 16 and 17 at El Cerrito High School field.

G. H. Macey, circus program chairman, said the cubs will join boy scouts and explorers in the Grand Entry parade in which 3500 boys will take part.

CUB ACTIVITIES will include participation in the Cubbing Event. Some will enter the area dressed as clowns and animals. Some will demonstrate active cub games. Others will dramatize cub scout monthly themes of the past year such as "Strong for America," "Jungle Tales," "Strength and Skills," and others.

Ten minutes has been allowed for these demonstrations.

All will take place at the same time, with each group presenting its act in a designated space or ring in the area. Cubs also will take part in the flag event.

The last participation by cubs in the show will take place in the grand finale called "Forward on Liberty's Team." The cubs will join others in a black-light ceremony and dramatization, spotlighting an eight foot replica of the Liberty Bell. The show is scheduled to end at 9:40 p.m.

Volney Benson, Berkeley, is director of the Cubbing Event, which promises to be a highlight of the show. Included among Cub Packs registered to participate in the "Big Show" from the Concord District are Ygnacio-Oak Grove Dad's Club, Pack 46; Concord Elementary P.T.A. Pack 19; Meridian District. Walnut Creek Women's Club Pack 59; Sun Valley Improvement Association, Pack 79; Orinda Lions Club, Pack 211.

Acalanes Varsity Thinclads Win Four-School Meet

The Acalanes Dons gave indications that they are ready for tomorrow's county meet as they handed El Cerrito, Alhambra and Las Lomas a setback in a meet at Acalanes Memorial Oval on April 24.

In the Varsity the Dons registered 88⅔ points, El Cerrito 42⅓ and Alhambra 6, while Las Lomas failed to show.

ACALANES COPPED 10 out of a possible 13 first places, with Eric Murray's heave of 52 feet, 7 inches, with the iron ball, the top performance of the day and one of the best marks in Northern California.

On one toss Eric hit 54 feet, 10 inches, only to foul when he lost his balance and stepped out of the ring.

Neil Caldwell climbed into the ozone to scale 12 feet even in the pole vault, while Murray added another first place with a 129 foot heave in the discus.

IN THE BEE event the Dons didn't fare so well, as El Cerrito dominated things to rack up 70 points, while Alhambra's 34½ nudged out Acalanes, which had 33½. Las Lomas had 3.

The only first place copped by the Dons was a win in the 330-yard run by Jacox with a good time of :40.4.

Diablo Stubborn But Don Tennis Team Wins 5-2

The Acalanes tennis team continued its winning ways in league play when it defeated a stubborn foe in Mt. Diablo High last Friday afternoon by a 5-2 count at Concord.

The Diablo team gave the Dons their toughest go in league play to-date, and the Dons were forced to do their best to take the win and remain in the undefeated class.

HOWARD FLANDERS started things off in good style when he defeated Carlos Gonzales of Diablo 6-2, 7-5, and things were going according to form when Don Rathjen stroked his way to a 6-3, 6-1 win over Jim Gonzales.

Adrian Riggs of Diablo registered a win when, after losing the first set to Jerry Gray 6-3, he came back to win 7-5 and 7-5.

PHIL LOWTHIAN of the Dons came through with a 6-2, 2-6, 8-6 win over Art Jacogsen and Ron Dallas was forced to come from behind to take Concord's Jerry Werner 4-6, 6-1, 6-0.

In the doubles it was a split decision with Diablo's Gonzales and Riggs defeating Flanders and Gray 6-0, 6-2, while Rathjen and Lowthian won out over Werner and Jim Gonzales 7-5, 1-6, 6-1.

Area Students in J. C. Variety Show Tonight

Students from this area at East Contra Costa Junior College will appear in tonight's Variety Show at Martinez Junior High School Auditorium.

Orinda's Ellen Galbraith will appear with three others in a special tap dance, while Bob Winkenbach will dance in the "Lazybones" number.

Lafayette's Carole Minor will dance in the Pirate ballet, Charleston, "Be A Clown" and "Wimoweh" numbers. Ruth Duvander and Pat Herrick will appear in a modern dance number with Nancy Dietrich of Walnut Creek and Laurine Leath of Oakland.

PREVENTS MANY STRAINS

There is a degree of truth, perhaps, in the charge that car makers are responsible for the situation that makes it necessary to slam the automobile door in order to close it, points out the National Automobile Club. Car owners, however, are not entirely innocent, and a little oil or graphite applied to door locks and strikers will demonstrate this to the satisfaction of the most skeptical.

County Track, Swim Meets—Tomorrow!

Acalanes' swimming and track teams receive the acid test from here on out. Both engage in County Meets tomorrow and go on to North Coast section meets next wek.

Track winners in the county meet go to the North Coast Section Meet next Friday, May 9, at Diablo, after qualifying in the County Meet at Diablo tomorrow.

Both these meets start at 1:30 p.m.

THE DON SWIMMERS take part in the County Meet at Albany tomorrow afternoon and are heavy favorites to cop the county title in both A and Bee divisions.

On track, the Dons Varsity of Coach Charles Eaton is favored to cop its third consecutive title, while Coach Bob Lord's Bees are underdogs, with Pittsburg, Antioch and Alhambra rating a toss-up for top Bee honors.

The North Coast Section swim meet will take place Saturday, May 10, at the University of California pool, starting at 10 a. m.

THE DON BASEBALL nines swing into action when the Junior Varsity crosses bats with Piedmont next Tuesday on the Acalanes diamond and the Don Varsity travels to Antioch for resumption of league play.

The Dons hold a one-game lead in league play and are slight favorites to repeat an earlier win over the Paper City lads, with Bob Borghesani slated for mound duty.

THE TENNIS TEAM travels to Antioch on the same day, and is heavy favorite to win, having whitewashed Antioch 7-0 in their first meeting.

Golf is favored to repeat an earlier win when the Dons meet the Pittsburg swingers at Pittsburg at 2:30 p.m. today.

Ex-Don Athletes Doing OK at U of C; County Track Meet Tomorrow at Diablo

By ERWIN MATTSON

The University of California has finished its allotted 20 days of spring football practice, and as far as Pappy Waldorf, headman of the Golden Bears is concerned, it was a satisfactory session.

The Bears, according to observers, appear to be headed for another top-flight eleven, and another Rose Bowl is a distinct possibility.

Two former Don grid players are on the squad. Lloyd Torchio is a center, while Clark McBride does his bit at tackle, and both take a turn at linebacking.

Forrest Borghesani has graduated from the Frosh baseball squad and is doing O. K. while throwing for the Junior Varsity, where he has been doing his share of winning.

THE COUNTY TRACK MEET takes place at Diablo tomorrow, with the Dons favorites to cop the county title on the basis of the season's records to date.

It will be interesting to see the come-through performances on the part of some individuals which will result in upsets.

This is the meet that every trackman looks forward to. Some will tighten up in the clutch and fail to do as well as they are capable of, while others will exceed their best to date. The combination or the two can materially effect results, but it appears that the Dons are ready to grab their share of points, which will be more than enough to annex the 1952 track crown.

From now on, track competition will get tougher and tougher as North Coast Section and final meets approach, leading up to the State Meet which closes the season late in May.

THE BASEBALL RACE is waxing hot, and the Dons at this point are still out in front with a one-game lead over the rest of the pack.

Last Friday the Dons were one game out in front, and Diablo in the number 2 spot. The Acalanes nine waxed the Red Devils and jumped to a two-game league lead, which proved to be temporary as John Swett played some top ball to defeat the Dons on Tuesday. Diablo in the meantime dropped a 4-1 game to Antioch.

At this writing, the Dons are still on top with a single loss as against five wins. Antioch is number 2 now, with three wins and two losses. Crockett has a two-win, two-loss record, with a rained out game against Alhambra to make up.

Today the local nine relaxes as the result of a bye and will watch the rest of the league with interest as Diablo meets Alhambra, Antioch and John Swett tangle and Albany and Pittsbrug cross bats.

THE TENNIS SQUAD is all alone in the number 1 spot, having defeated each league opponent handily in the first round of play.

Swimming appears to be head and shoulders above the rest of the county, and a cinch to swim away with the county title.

Of the two teams, the Bees appear to be the stronger, and that bids well for the future of Coach Lee Arth's Mermen, particularly in view of the fact that numerous freshmen are outstanding.

An interesting thing occurred in the swim meet last Tuesday against George Washington High of San Francisco. The city contestant scored highest on the basis of points per dive but lost out when the Acalanes boy scored higher as he did more difficult dives.

The more difficult the dive attempted, the more points are possible, and credit is given for difficulty as well as perfection.

Barbara Stark was present for her exhibition performance and took a crack at the 220-yard national backstroke record.

Sally Pedder and Sally Freedman paced her, swimming free style, and the time was a fast 2 minutes, 50 seconds, three seconds from the national mark of two minutes, 47 seconds.

Sally Pedder and Sally Freedman, incidentally, did a bit all right themselves the past weekend when they ended up one-two in the Metropolitan Meet for the 200-yard free style event for high school girls.

Its really something for Acalanes to have three top gal swimmers in its own back yard - I mean pool!

The best part of it is that they are three fine gals and still wear the same size Easter bonnets despite their accomplishments, with the result that they are popular with classmates and faculty.

Orchids for jobs well done, and many their wins be many! We will all watch them with pride and best wishes, for they are champions in every way.

13-3 Don Win at Diablo Diamond

The Acalanes Dons posted their fifth straight baseball league win of the season when they had a good day at Concord last Friday afternoon and won going away by a 13-3 score.

Along with the lucky 13 runs, the Dons fattened batting averages as they registered 14 hits, with every batter credited with one or more.

THE OPENING frame told the story when seven runs crossed the plate on six hits.

Jerry Macauley walked, Bob Dwight was safe on an error when he laid down a sacrifice bunt and Richard Davis loaded the bags with a single.

SECONDS LATER Dick Fey unloaded them with a well hit triple and came home when Bob Borghesani drilled a safety over second base.

John Champlain hit to right center for a safety to put two on.

Andy Monson and Richard Ting went down swinging on third strikes, only to have Kay Dana bang one to left field, scoring Borghesani and Champlain. Dana stole second and Macauley brought him home on another hit for run number 7.

The inning ended when Macauley pilfered second only to make out number 3 when trapped on a pick-off play.

THE DONS ADDED three in the fourth, tow in the fifth and one in the seventh, while the Diablo Devils scored three in the second when catcher Bob Lloyd hit a home run with two on.

Bob Borghesani was the winning pitcher, and he had things well in hand as he dished out but four hits while striking out eight.

Jack Jardine was the loser, going but two and two-thirds innings before being relieved by Jerry Sims.

Win Over Swett Is Sixth for Don Racqueteers

The Acalanes tennis team continued to dominate league play when it won over John Swett of Crockett 6-1, on the Don courts Tuesday afternoon.

The win was the sixth straight in league play.

The Dons are in the number 1 spot and are well on the way to their fourth consecutive title.

Don Nine Loses To Swett, 5-2

The Acalanes Dons met a tough foe in a John Swett nine Tuesday afternoon on the local dimaond and came out on the short end of a 5-2 count.

This was their first league defeat of the 1952 pennant race. Inability to hit in the clutch while John Swett did accounted for the difference.

THE CROCKETT NINE started off in good style when Ray Zaupa, lead-off man, singled and Don Priest, the number 2 man, slammed out a home run to deep left field. Crockett gathered another score in the third and added two in the seventh.

The Dons made a desperate bid for victory when they tallied one in the fifth frame and scored another in the sixth, making it 3-2, only to have Crockett score two in the seventh on four hits to put the game on ice.

BOB WESTLUND was the losing pitcher, yielding 10 hits while striking out 11.

Joel Heckman was credited with the win as the Dons gained but five hits, with 10 going down swinging at thin air.

Don Swim Teams Down Washington In Triple Splash

The City Slickers of George Washington High of San Francisco came to visit their country cousins, the Acalanes Dons Tuesday afternoon at Acalanes pool and went home a bit wiser as the result of a triple loss.

The Don Varsity won 45-30, the Bees came through 45-19 and the Cees posted a 25-23 win.

TWO CEE records were cracked when Mike Small won the 50-yard free style event in 29.4 and Peter St. Hill reeled of the 50-yard backstroke in 37.3.

Jack Spiegl won the 50 and 100-yard free style events in 28.2 and 1:05.2, respectively, while Carl Drews swam a fast 150-yard individual medley to stop the clock at 2:02.5 in the Varsity contest.

OTHER GOOD times in the Class A division were registered by John Kistinger with a 27.5 in the 50-yard free style, while Brooks DeLaneux did 1:10.8 in the 100-yard breast stroke and Jim Small had 2:19.2 in the 200-yard free style.

6 to 5 Defeat Given Don J. V. By Pirate Nine

The Acalanes Junior Varsity traveled to Pittsburg Tuesday afternoon, and when the diamond dust had cleared away, the Don Babes were on the short end of a 6-5.

Things started off well enough with Acalanes jumping to a 2-0 first inning lead only to have Pitt tie it up in the third at 2-all.

The Dons came back to make it 3-2 when they tallied in the fourth but the Pitt Pirates scored three in the fifth.

ACALANES came back to score two in the top of the sixth frame, and it was 5-all at the end of the regulation seven innings.

That's the way it stayed until the fatal ninth, when Pitcher John Olcott threw to catch the runner off third — and the runner, in his mad dash to the plate, scored when the throw home was wide.

RICK JOHNSON toiled on the mound for the Dons for the first five innings and struck out 10.

John Olcott took over in the sixth and set down nine via the strikeout route during the four innings he worked.

THE DONS GARNERED nine hits to Pitt's five, but inability to hit in the clutch led to their downfall.

They left the bags loaded in three different innings.

ENTERING CALIFORNIA

A grand total of 179,573 motor vehicles entered California during February, 1952, reports the National Automobile Club. Of this total, 152,697 were passenger cars, 23,890 were trucks, and 2,986 were buses.

Don Divoters Defeat Pirates

The Acalanes divot diggers proved to be too much for the Pitt Pirates in match play at Orinda Country Club last Friday, despite the loss of two top players.

Dave Cranston was out due to disciplinary difficulties, while Mike Elridge was on the sidelines with a cut hand.

Only Pitt player to give any competition was Dick Rasmussen, who shot a 76 but dropped the match when Bob Diehl posted a 74 to cop medalist honors.

Ray Orr won with 81. Bob Crall shot 90 and Don Reid 100, with both winning to make it a clean sweep.

Diablo Trounces Don J. V., 10-5

The Acalanes J. V. baseball team found the going tough last Friday, when Diablo defeated them 10-5 on the Acalanes diamond.

John Olcott started on the mound and had an off day. The Devils tallied four in the initial frame.

Rick Johnson took over in the second after two runs had tallied and yielded two more before ending the inning.

The Dons came back to score two in the third and two in the fifth, adding one more in the sixth.

But Diablo grabbed two more in the top of the seventh, and with it the win.

This Area's Exhibitors Capture Some Of Top Awards at Spring Garden Show

With choice blooms and the gift for gracious outdoor living, gardeners of this area captured some of the highest awards at the California Spring Garden Show, which closes at 10 tonight at Oakland's Exposition Building.

Winning a notable first with a collection of rare iris hybrids, Ernest Lafrenz of Acalanes Gardens illustrated the theme, "An Iris Is Born." Continuing the lifework of the late Sydney Mitchell, noted horticulturist specializing in bearded iris, Lafrenz showed in his exhibit the complete plant cycle from seedling to bloom.

In the Awards for Horticultural Merit, which are marks of distinction for general horticultural excellence, the Acalanes Gardens placed fourth.

EARNING FIVE firsts in the class of New Plant Introductions, Orchard Nursery of Lafayette won with two new African violets, the Saint Paulia "Tinkerbell" and the "Glowing Amber." Other firsts were for three tropical plants originally from South America—Anthurium Quactialissimafolia, Alocacia Odora and Philodendron Pandiformus.

Orchard Nursery won another blue ribbon for its over-all Brazilian roof garden display featuring tropical plants and African violets. Designed by Ernest Wertheim, noted landscape architect, the display had as background a projected picture of Sugar Loaf Mountain and the harbor of Rio de Janeiro.

TWO GREEN THUMB amateur groups winning Highest Awards with exhibits extolling the pleasures and practicalities of outdoor living were the Orinda Garden Club, under the leadership of Mrs. W. H. Mordy, and Lafayette Girl Scout Troop 30.

With pink-and-white border planting of azaleas, snowballs, rhododendrons and fragrant bouvardia, the Orinda Garden Club designed around a stillwater poole featuring a low black-iron portable barbecue and iron-framed patio furnishings with lie-backs of white woven rope in modern utilitarian design.

A play area furnished with sand box and pool for toy boat sailing is the center of interest in the Lafayette Girl Scout exhibit, with an adjacent raised tile terrace equipped with comfortable chaise longue for adult enjoyment.

LAFAYETTE PTAs Garden Section won a second prize award. This section entered two arrangements, under the direction of Mrs. Charles Neuman, home and family life chairman.

A colonial arrangement of wild grape and Japanese plum in an antique copper bowl was awarded the second prize in the flower arrangement division. The group also entered a miniature Victorian arrangement in an old-fashioned cup.

McDONNELL NURSERY of Walnut Creek and Oakland was another prize-winner.

Participating in the landscape architects' and the American Institute of Architects' work which won a combined award was Floyd A. Covan, Lafayette landscape architect.

Algerian Glamor Planned as Theme Of Fashion Show

Dramatic decorations depicting all the glamour and color of the Near East are being designed for the Caravan of Fashions, sponsored by the League of Jewish Women, to be presented by Lindburgs and Trans-World Airlines on May 14, 12:30 p.m. at Diablo Country Club.

Every effort is being made to transform the Diablo Country Club into an Alegrian mosque with brilliant shades of red and gold accenting the motif.

To elaborate the Algerian theme and to add to the authenticity, Mrs. Edith Dinkin, well-known landscape artist who has just returned from a four month sojourn in Israel, will paint a mural on a 40-foot screen which will be used as the backdrop for the fashion show. Mrs. Dinkin has for many years been a member of the Lafayette and Mt. Diablo Art Associations.

Mrs. Larry Litz of Danville and Mrs. Hy Wiseman, of Walnut Creek are co-chairmen in charge of decorations.

Tickets for the fashion show and luncheon are available from League members, and Mrs. Sam Wiseman, Walnut Creek 4233, should be contacted for reservations.

Christian Science Sermon Announced

The Christian Science Lesson-Sermon for Sunday, May 4, will consider the subject of "Everlasting Punishment." Bible texts on the subject together with corroborating and explanatory passages from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will comprise the sermon.

From Isaiah these comforting verses will be read:

"Thus saith the Lord, Keep ye judgment, and do justice; for my salvation is near to come, and my righteousness to be revealed. Is not this the fast that I have chosen? to loose the bands of wickedness, to undo the heavy burdens, and to let the oppressed go free, and that ye break every yoke?" (56:1, 58-6).

The following will be a correlative passage from Science and Health:

"The destruction of sin is the divine method of pardon. Divine Life destroys death, Truth destroys error, and Love destroys hat. Being destroyed, sin needs no other form of forgiveness. Does not God's pardon, destroying any one sin, prophesy and involve the final destruction of all sin?" (p. 339).

Auto Workers Endorse Condon

Robert L. Condon, Sixth District congressional candidate, last week received the unanimous endorsement of the United Automobile Workers Local 560.

"Condon was endorsed on the basis of his excellent record as an assemblyman for the past four years in the State Legislature," Jack Amoit, secretary, said.

"It is the feeling of our local that we must have the advantage of Condon's legislative experience and ability to solve the many problems on the Congressional level that our two counties face."

Condon also has been endorsed by the State Federation of Labor, Contra Costa County C.I.O. council, Solano County A.F. of L. council, and other locals in the two counties.

Defense Highway Systems Subject Of U.S.N.R. Talk

United States Naval Reserve, Volunteer Composite Unit 12-25, will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at Acalanes High School, in Room 210.

Commander John L. Springer, U.S.N.R., will speak on "Primary Highway Systems in Time of Defense."

Springer served in the Pacific for two and a half years during World War II on the staff of Admiral Reeves. He assisted in setting up the Naval Air Transport Service at forward areas such as Burma, Okinawa and the Philippines.

In 1949 the commander was instrumental in the formation of the Western Highway Institute, of which he is president. This organization is financed by motor carriers, labor and others interested in the use of highways for commerce and defense. The institute operates principally in the 11 western states. Its work is primarily highway engineering, in cooperation with state highway departments.

The Tuesday meeting is under the direction of Lieutenant Commander Willard S. Johnson of Walnut Creek.

All naval reserve officers in the area are welcome to attend meetings of V.C.U. 12-25 and to join the organization.

St. Mary's Plans Homecoming Day

Details of the annual St. Mary's Homecoming Day program set for Sunday, May 18, on the Moraga valley campus were completed today by Chairman Thomas F. Joyce Jr. of Oakland.

Class reunions in San Francisco and Oakland will precede the traditional St. Mary's alumni affair on Saturday, May 17, Joyce said.

The Sunday campus program will begin with a High Mass celebrated by the retiring chaplain, Rev. Thomas E. Kane. Rev. William C. McGuire, student body chaplain, will preach the sermon. Breakfast will follow in Oliver Hall.

Some Openings In Adult Classes

There are still openings in some of the classes of the Acalanes Adult Center. It is still possible to register for the class of your choice for the spring semester.

Some of the classes which are still open include:

Social Dancing, taught by Irene Chiocca. The class will start Tuesday and will be held in the Acalanes cafeteria. Basic steps will be taught, such as waltz, fox-trot, tango and samba.

The millinery class, taught by Adelaide Fyfe. Changed to Tuesday night. The construction of all types of hats is offered in this interesting and useful course.

Girl Scout leadership. This course has a great deal to offer to those interested in youth leadership.

Mr. Durney's Wood Carving class. Students are working on the carving of bird houses and are really achieving some interesting results.

Gift Making Workshop. At the moment place mats and other things for the home are being made.

There are only three openings left in the popular Braided Rugs class. Materials are inexpensive because older garments are used for the making of the rugs.

For further information on the Acalanes Evening School, call Walnut Creek 6707 from 7 to 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

Church Rally Set For Tomorrow

The Junior Christian Endeavor Societies of the county will hold a rally at the Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. tomorrow.

Mrs. J. J. McMillan of Orinda, county superintendent of Junior Christian Endeavor Societies, said the rally is primarily for fourth, fifth and sixth graders, but older and younger children are welcome.

Concord Juniors will take charge of the opening services and Juniors from Richmond will present flannelgraph Bible stories and memory work.

A picnic lunch and movie also is scheduled. Youngsters are asked to bring a dime to help pay for the movie.

Plans Shaping Up For Scout Circus

Plans are rapidly progressing for the Mt. Diablo Boy Scout Circus, to be held at the El Cerrito High School athletic field the evenings of May 16 and 17, according to Dr. Ted Cleveland of Berkeley, general chairman.

Some 2500 scouts and cubs and their leaders, from 83 scout troops and cub packs, have indicated intention to participate. This will be the first activity of this type to be staged by the Mt. Diablo Council, which embraces the entire area of Contra Costa County, Berkeley and Albany.

The Circus will replace the council-wide camporee, usually held in May. Tickets are being sold by scouts and cubs to their parents and friends.

Main purpose of the affair will be to demonstrate scouting skills in action.

DEFECTIVE FUEL PUMP

The automobile fuel pump will gradually wear out and become less efficient with us, according to the California State Automobile Association. Worn pull rods and linkage or a punctured diaphragm are some of its most common ailments.

Martin to Talk to Theosophical Society

Speaker at the monthly meeting of the Theosophical Society in Contra Costa County on Sunday will be Edward Martin of Berkeley, vice-president.

His topic at the Community Room of the Coast Counties Gas building 1535 Bonanza Street, Walnut Creek, at 8 p.m. will be "The World of the Soul."

Diablo Choral Unit Plans 10th Annual Concert in May

The Diablo Valley Choral will feature music from Bizet's Carmen, Victor Herbert and South Pacific at its 10th annual concert May 10 at Acalanes High School.

Guest artists will be Raoul Pause and his Concert Dance Group.

Proceeds from this year's event will be used to buy athletic equipment for the Walnut Creek Recreation Center. A wading pool is to be built in the city park with proceeds from last year's concert.

HISTORICALLY, the choral was organized in the summer of 1942 by Mrs. Elwin Edwards and Mrs. Alice Kauffman.

Seven of the group's original members still are singing in the organization. They are Mrs. George Cadwell, Mrs. Fred Dixon, Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Kauffman, Mrs. Allan Marsan, Mrs. Lenore ePtrice and Caroline McCullagh.

Mrs. Nancy Pauline Turner, Oakland choral director, has conducted the group since its beginning. Mrs. Turner, a Scotswoman, received her music education in Europe and is active with singing groups of the PTA.

Originally, the choral met in the music bungalow of the Walnut Creek grammar school and for a time the Women's Club was the home. The women meet now in the Presbyterian church Wednesday mornings.

PROCEEDS FROM THE group's annual spring concert have gone to various philanthropies. For some years a school in the mountains of Kentucky was sponsored with money through the Save the Children Federation. Clothing, Christmas gifts, playground equipment and a library also were provided.

Besides the spring concerts, the group presents a Christmas program. Programs have been given for hospitals in Livermore and at Camp Stoneman and for church and club groups.

ONCE A MONTH the organization holds a luncheon and business meeting following rehearsal. The club takes active part in the annual Community Concert drive.

The choral is represented at Recreation Council meetings by Mrs. Lenore Petrice, and at Walnut Festival meetings by Mrs. Edwards.

STOPPING ALONG HIGHWAY

If you find it necessary to stop along the highway, park as far to the right as possible, advises the National Automobile Club. If you fail to do so you are inviting trouble and quite possibly disaster.

Acalanes Faculty Gets an 'Apple'

Acalanes students have taken the old adage about presenting the teacher with an apple to heart. The Don student body presented the entire Acalanes faculty with an "apple" of a sort Wednesday during "Teachers Day" observance on the Don campus.

Proclaimed a special day by Student Body President Art Siler, "Teachers' Day" featured a noon luncheon in the senior patio, with the faculty served as honored guests.

Queried on the purpose of a "Teachers' Day," Siler said:

"There seems to be a day or week commemorating everything from candy to canines. We thought more attention and an actual act to let our faculty know we appreciate the help they're giving us would be appropriate. We think we've got one of the best group of instructors that has ever been assembled."

Siler's contention was given unanimous backing by the student council, which voted last week to sponsor "Teachers Day" observance.

Women instructors were given small trinkets; male teachers were invited to romp through their assignments for the day in "casual dress — sans neckties."

HOW SAFE IS YOUR CAR?

Safety inspection of the car does not end with testing out the brakes and greasing the steering gear. It has to do with every part of the car, including the battery, the carburetor and the electric wiring.

UWF Barbecue — It's Tomorrow

Tomorrow is the day of the Acalanes Branch, United World Federalists' barbecue.

So, partners, hang up your shooting irons, grab your favorite gal and head for Ray and Marion Devins', Jonas Hill Road, Moraga; and be sure to get there at 4 p.m. Stay late so as to enjoy every moment.

Hombres and gals who have been working to make this a success are headed by Robert Milligan, general chairman. The kind of chow you'll eat is being decided by Mrs. John Parker and Mrs. Ray Devin; the fellow what's in charge of barbecuing is Paul Ammen; and to keep you happy and amused, Robert Spott and Rosco T. Hughes are getting together on the entertainment.

HELPFUL HINTS
FROM MILTIE

If you have some windows that stick tight enough to make a burglar really earn his money, try this method of easing the situation. Dampen a cloth with liquid floor wax and rub the wax in the track the window follows. Several applications a week or two apart should make the window behave beautifully

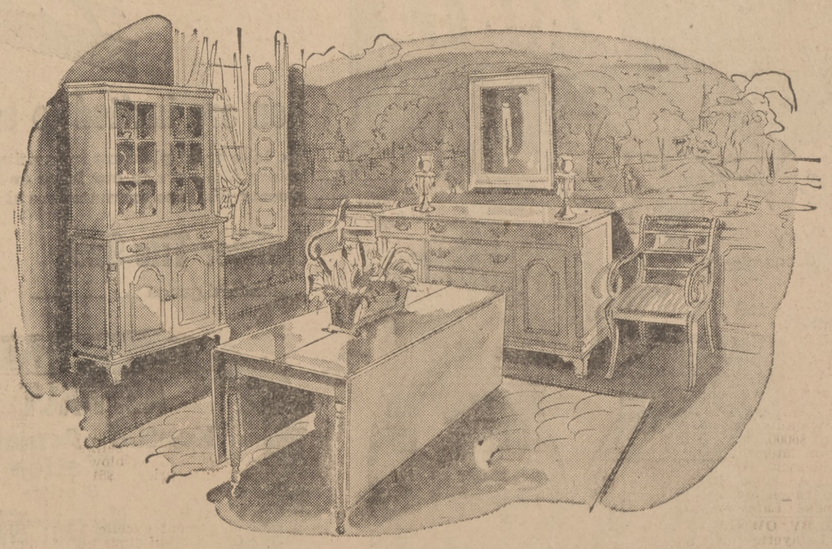

Never let it be said that we don't suggest nice, easy practical things. Usually we do but if you can figure an easy way to do this, I wish you'd write or phone me and tell how to do it easily because this one has me stumped. Besides, after some guys took my piggy bank last year I don't have enough left in the house that's worth stealing.

Greyhound Strike Two Months Old

Contra Costa Commuters Association reported this week that "there are no new developments of any consequence in the two-months-old Greyhound bus strike."

Late last week an organization known as the Bay Area Transit System, backed by Arthur C. Jenkins, Bay Area transportation engineer, and Fred P. Hamilton Jr., Midwest street railway operator, petitioned the Public Utilities Commission to take over commuter operations in Marin, the Peninsula and Contra Costa County.

IN ANOTHER MOVE, Timothy J. Manning, former president of the Key System, is understood to have completed negotiations with Greyhound to take over its Marin County lines, subject to the approval of the Public Utilities Commission and the Marin County Board of Supervisors. This proposal made no reference to commuter operations in Contra Costa County.

Nothing further has been heard from Marin's earlier announced plans to set up its own transportation system under county operation. Possibility of reactivating Sacramento shortline service in Contra Costa County is still being talked of.

CONTRA COSTA COUNTY commuters, according to the Commuters Association, are still interested in anything which will help their lot. An added handicap has been placed in this way this past week, with minor repair work going on in the Broadway Low Level Tunnel, causing a shutdown of one side of the tunnel during peak hours on several evenings.

Bumper to bumper traffic inched along at snail's pace, with two opposite lanes of traffic compressed in one side of the already-overcrowded bore. Many took to the Fish Ranch Road, bypassing the tunnel, but still causing a general tieup on the main highway approaches to Orinda Crossroads.

TALKS BETWEEN the A. F. L. Motor Coach Employees Union and Greyhound Lines were resumed earlier this week, following the appointment of a three-man government peace panel to guide the negotiations. The strike has tied up all Greyhound service in seven western states since March 2, causing an overflow of local commuters on the already-overcrowded highways, striving hard to solve their transportation problems by organizing private ride pool groups.

Scattered rumors of a possible settlement of the strike early in May were neither discounted nor verified by spokesmen for the local Commuters Association, who have assumed a "we'll-believe-it-when-we-see-it" attitude toward the whole affair.

Baldwin Dinner 'Huge Success'

The "Baldwin for Congress" dinner held Tuesday night at Diablo Country Club was heralded by sponsors as a "huge success."

Andy Blalock, chairman, said, "It was the largest political rally ever held in the county. Baldwin's talk was very enthuiastically received. About 800 were present."

John Baldwin spoke on the basic issues of his campaign, discussing spending and corruption in government.

Special guests attending the banquet were Alfred Newman, a law school classmate of Baldwin's who had presented Baldwin's name at a "grass roots" Republican gathering at Acalanes High School; Tony Delap, chairman of the State Central Republican Committee; Benny Wagner, an A.F. of L. leader; Manuel Trebino, president of Electrical Workers Union; Lindsey Spight, general chairman of "Baldwin for Congress;" Joseph Creighton, president of Orinda Young Republicans; Mrs. Betty Erwin, state secretary of Young Republicans; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Wodard, Mr. and Mrs. Millard Bostock, James Moore, general financc chairman; the Rev. Van Delinder, pastor of Danville Presbyterian Church, who gave the invocation, and Mrs. Melvin Jacobus, president, Orinda Republican Womens Club.

On the program of entertainment were John Cook and Reginald Biggs, who played a piano and vibra harp arrangmeent. The Weary Brothers, a quartet, sang, and in the Dixieland band were Heinie Gentry, trombonist, and Ray Smith, who played the banjo, both of Orinda.

Confessions of a Drapery Buyer

I bought some Lulu's and you can have them cheap!

By BILL SIMPSON

I thought I was plenty cagy . . . when I bought 500 yards of grey, green and eggshell faille about 1 year ago. A lot of the stuff is still here. You can walk out of here with it for 99c a yard.

A hot shot mill salesman talked me in to some 200 yards of rayloom gray drapery fabric. What a mistake that was! It was marked at $2.75 a yard. But take it away for $1.25!

My better half thought that this grey lintex was "just gorgeous." (i.e. at 3.25 per yard.) If she says so, it must be. But I've still got 68 yards of it that I can happily do without. And it's your for only $1.35.

— — — —

This deal was so good that I got carried away. I bought hundreds of yards of hand-hooked broadloom at a very good price. And sold most of it. And I'm just hurtin' to get rid of the rest. COME IN AND MAKE US AN OFFER.

P.S. Okay, gals, if you still want the big town feeling when you shop, we'll put in a couple of parking meters and charge you the extra ½ cent sales tax during this sale.

● Just in time for Lafayette May Festival of Values

Ever wake up in the morning with a whale of a head? Well, I surely felt like that when I discovered everybody in town had bought my "exclusive" lamee metallic. It sold for $2.25. You can call the remainder yours for 99c per yard, which is less than the stuff costs.

OSNABURG—sure sounds expensive, doesn't it? But you, you lucky gals, can have it for a song—and 75c a yard!

Bored with it all? Then spend a few minutes pawing over our remnant table! You'll find "fascinating failles," "picturesque prints," and "shimmering silks."—From 50 cents a yard.
